Lumenis announced today that it successfully negotiated a two-year dual-source purchase agreement with American Laser Centers.

Lumenis is a developer, manufacturer and seller of laser and light-based devices for medical, aesthetic, ophthalmic, dental and veterinary applications.

American Laser Centers is a US chain of aesthetic laser clinics offering a variety of treatments to include permanent hair reduction, skin rejuvenation and microdermabrasion.

Previously, American Laser Centers purchased its lasers solely from Lumenis competitor Syneron Medical Ltd. (Nasdaq: ELOS)

American Laser Centers recently acquired Advanced Laser Clinics, a national chain of aesthetic clinics with which Lumenis has long had an exclusive purchasing agreement. Advanced Laser Clinics had more than 70 centers equipped with Lumenis lasers and light devices.

American Laser Centers president Rich Morgan said, "I am very pleased to sign this new agreement which ensures that Lumenis will be one of our laser suppliers for our national aesthetic clinics".
